RESUME OF INDRANATH DUTTA

Indranath Dutta was born in Calcutta, India, on October 31, 1960, and attended the Indian Institute of Technology from which he received the degree of Bachelor of Technology in 1983.

In Fall, 1983 he enrolled as a graduate student at Case Western Reserve University where he received the degree of Master of Science from the Department of Metallurgy and Materials Science in August 1985. He was awarded the Ph.D. in Materials Science and Engineering from the University of Texas at Austin in December, 1988. His research was conducted in the area of metal matrix composites under Professor David L. Bourell.

On August 26, 1988, he joined the faculty of the Naval Postgraduate School, Monterey, California, where he is an Assistant Professor of Mechanical Engineering.

His current research interests include experimental and analytical studies of accelerated aging in metal matrix composites, analysis of internal residual stresses in MMCs and thermo-mechanical processing of MMCs. He is an associate member of the American Society for metals and The Metallurgical Society of AIME. He is also a member of the honor societies of Tau Beta Pi, Phi Kappa Phi and Beta Alpha Phi.
